True religion.

There is neither happiness nor rest for those who crave only for earthly desires. One should not dream of joy and everlasting pleasure till one seeks recourse to Lord Rama's name. Till then there will be sorrow and unhappiness for men.

Foreword

Arya Kanya Gurukul (AKG) group of Institutions have long been synonymous with Value-based Integral Education, the foundations of which have been engrained at Gurukul Mahila Arts and Commerce College (GMC) by the message and tireless efforts - in its formative years - of our Revered Founding Father, Raj Ratna Shreshthi Shri Nanjibhai Kalidas Mehta.

The COVID-19 crisis has shown us that our families, our society, and our nation need women of character to stand up and meet the challenges head on. In many ways, therefore, this has been a year both of reflection and forward-thinking at GMC. I am proud to report that we have not only overcome the complexities and adversities that the pandemic has brought, but have done it with the care and thoughtfulness that is very characteristic of GMC.

Our students continue to have access to the best possible infrastructure and facilities, thanks to the continued support of the Arya Kanya Vidyalaya Trust. In the past 2.7 academic years, its investment of 2.5 crores for maintenance has resulted in excellent academic infrastructure, buildings and laboratories.

The Trust has built the first NDA prototype Obstacle Course@NCC-Playground. Repair and Renovation of all the major buildings as Bharat-Mandir, Shanti-Kutir, Prarthana-Mandir (Akg-01), AKG-English Medium & Gujarati Medium has given a new look to Arya Kanya Gurukul.

GMC continues in the upward path of the previous five years in all areas, thereby reinforcing the important role we play in the field of education. Our strength in academics, from the consistent above 95% pass rate in Examinations to students passing

National-level examinations, is complemented by the continued growth of new distance-learning programmes and skill-based courses. We have broken new grounds in the national ranking, and hope to get better in the years to come.

Perhaps, what is most satisfying to me, personally, is the continued enthusiasm shown by our student and teaching community for the Saptadhara-'Integral Education' activities. This is best highlighted by the silent but distinct community service activities that the NSS & NCC students of GMC carry out year after year. A special mention needs to be made of the Swachhata Abhiyan activities that our loving Chairperson, Smt. Juhi Chawla Mehta commenced in the year 2019, and which continues to this day. These activities aim at sensitizing our students to the needs of the less privileged who live in the rural communities of India. This widening access to the community, we hope, will shape our students into responsible citizens who will help combat the social and environmental challenges that we are facing today.

Our students and staff continue to be the key to our ongoing success. I would like to thank them for their commitment and hard work. I also thank the alumni, the students and the Staff members of GMC for their sustained love and support. Lastly, I am grateful to the Trust for their continued support and guidance.

I take great pleasure in sharing the GMC Annual Report 2019-2022 is with you, and pray to our Revered Founding Father Nanji Kalidas Mehta, to guide and bless us so that we continue to come up to His expectations.

I knew that there was many a slip between the cup and the lip and I found that dreams were easy to dream but it was quite difficult to translate them into reality. Yet I was not discouraged or cowed down by the pressure of circumstances. I have always felt and realized that the struggle which is waged between the two extremes of dreams and reality makes 'men' of us which imperceptibly moulds our personality.

Introduction

Beware of an irrational imitation of the west. Do assimilate what is best in other cultures but do not forget your own. Live it, be it and prove to the world what Indian womanhood is. They live, breathe and drink Indian culture when they are at the Gurukul but at the same time they do not close their minds to the great cultural synthesis that is in the making in international field. (DHE-208)

All praise should go to God alone who has given us powers and opportunities to serve. Praise does please a person at first but later brings about his downfall through sheer pride and egoism. (DHE-202)

Yet every nation has to stick to its moral values and do what is right and dignified from its own viewpoint. (DHE-189)

Although India has enough to present to Europe, it would be more profitable for us to learn as much as possible from them and add to India's knowledge and experience. We have to learn from them and add to India's knowledge and experience. We have to learn from them the virtues like national unity, self-respect, gentility, practical skill, courage, spirit of enterprise, patriotism, punctuality, regularity, self-help and industrious habits. There would be no harm but an endless gain if those virtues were learnt from them. (DHE-184)

Japan was the first to accept Western Science and industrial culture without losing its national identity. India must surely look up to it and imitate its good qualities if she wants to survive and compete in this difficult world of ours. (DHE-229)

The five great virtues of the Japanese are – Neatness, Restraint, Humility, Honesty, Comeliness in personal and social life. (DHE-222)

Every Japanese thought it a sin to waste food when the country was in need of it and when her soldiers fought for them on foreign soils. (DHE-221)

Though Saurashtra possesses more such institutions apart from this one, it needs a Women's University on the lines of the one which Maharshi Karve founded at Poona. I have a long cherished desire to establish such a University in Saurashtra and with that idea in mind I made monetary provision as said earlier for Mahila College which might ultimately give birth to such a University. A Modern Gurukula

Gurukul Mahila Arts and Commerce College (GMC) was founded in the year 1966 to inculcate ethical and moral values in students. These ethics and morals form the undercurrent of every subject taught at the College. This helps students develop a wholesome and balanced personality, one where academic competence is supplemented with good character.

This holistic development of students can only be possible in an environment that encourages the development of the student's mind, body and spirit. To facilitate this, the Trust has an optional residential policy for students. However, it is an essential ingredient for the Institution's Values-based Integral Education to achieve its objective of transformation. The environment is similar to the ancient Indian Gurukula system of education, in a modern context. Teachers and students live and grow together in an atmosphere of mutual trust and unity. This helps students develop a wholesome and balanced personality, one where academic competence is supplemented with good character.

- Integrating human values with secular knowledge

The Process

The base is the concept of a modern Gurukula that sustains all relationships and activities at GMC. It is responsible for creating and sustaining the congenial environment necessary for the teacher-student interaction to grow and develop.

Adherence to discipline and appropriate behaviour are the two important aspects that encompass all interactions. The five human values of Truth, Right Conduct, Peace, Love and Non-violence form the undercurrent of all the dimensions of integral education.

These dimensions are: Intellectual, Physical, Cultural, Devotional and Service. The key activities for each of these dimensions form the basis of most of the time that students spend at GMC.

Nanjibhai Kalidas Mehta purposefully designed the system of Integral Education so that while students spend 60% of their time on academics (intellectual capacities), they also spend 40% time on the development of other qualities.

The Daily Routine

This is a crucial component of this process. Each student's day starts at 5:00 a.m., with a couple of hours spent in prayer, exercise and other vocational pursuits (such as practice sessions for music, dance, theatre and the likes).

Classes commence at 8:00 a.m. After college ends at around 2:00 p.m., students move to the Hostel for meals. In the afternoon, they come back for various skilled-development courses. These include Data-Entry Operator, Beauty & Wellness, Sewing Machine Operator & Organic Farming. Post dinner, students usually spend time on their studies.

The Outcome

The outcomes of the system of Values-based Integral Education at GMC are threefold. It prepares all graduates to be:

- Spiritually aware
- Socially responsible and
- Professionally sound

It helps develop a strong character and positive qualities in students and nurtures virtues like adaptability, tolerance and sacrifice; shaping them into noble and responsible citizens.

To make India once again the land of immortals, let us bring women out of their social prison which Gandhiji did and educate them to be self-independent, fearless and noble in character. (DHE: 347)

Introduction

Integral Education Activities

All students at GMC spend 60% of their time at College on intellectual activities (primarily on their studies). The rest (40%) is spent almost equally on activities related to the Integral education dimensions of Devotional, Cultural, Physical and Service, as highlighted below.

Devotional Dimension

- Havan (Every Thursday)
- Vedic chants and stotrams
- Meditation & Silent sitting
- Morning Assembly (college prayer)
- Brahmaramanam (food prayer)
- Kshama Prarthana (night prayer)

The activities of the devotional dimension enable a student to connect to his/her Divine inner Self. This inner connection opens the heart and brings forth the feeling of love, compassion and empathy for fellow human beings.

Cultural Dimension

Celebration of festivals:

Independence Day, Navratri, Republic Day, Gandhi Jayanti, Teachers' Day, Birth Anniversaries of Pujya Bapuji, Pujya Didimaa, Pujya Kulbhrajaji, Pujya Santokbaa,

- NCC Band,
- Talent Morning Programme
- Annual Programme,
- Drama & Dance,
- Fine Arts: Rangoli, Card making,
- Debates and Elocution

From the performing arts to public speaking to the fine arts, the cultural dimension is designed to give students wide opportunities to find an avenue to their individual artistic expression.

GMC makes every effort to provide the best possible resources—both material and human—so that students excel at their chosen activity. Festivals and Anniversaries are celebrated, reinforcing the unity among all faiths. Every student is involved in one way or another in the celebration of these festivals.

Physical Dimension

- NSS
- NCC
- Jogging
- Exercises and Yogasanas
- Annual Sports Week

Sports and games are a part of the daily routine of all students. From yoga classes to fitness training, from team sports to individual sports, students are encouraged to overcome their limitations and excel in these activities.

The institution has sports facilities: Playground, Obstacle Course etc.

- Volley Ball
- Badminton Court,
- Cricket Pitch
- Basket Ball Court,
- Tracks

Service Dimension

- Self-Reliance departments:
- Hostel mess, arts & crafts, costumes & props, etc.
- Community living
- Social Work
- Voluntary work
- Community Service

The philosophy of service at ARK-GMC is based on the concept that divinity pervades all of humanity, and hence when you serve others, you are serving the Divine. Students learn to serve without expecting anything in return, other than the deep inner satisfaction of serving others.

The optional residential system, where students live in rooms with other students from totally different backgrounds (for a minimum of two years and up to five years or more), provides an excellent foundation for the service dimension.

I have come to realize that there is no distinction between man and man and no one should be considered low because of birth or position. To think otherwise is a crime against God and a sin against humanity. (DHE-47)

Intellectual Dimension

Apart from academics and research, the activities in this dimension include:

Awareness Courses

These mandatory courses are designed to cultivate a broad view of the human condition in students. The course content (Six-Month Module Course in Environmental Studies, SCOPE) helps trigger self-reflection and enquiry and sensitises students to the concerns of society, and gets them to think about practical solutions to these problems.

Study Circle & Saptidhara Activities

In each Department, fortnightly activities begin with an hour of inspiring and ennobling talks by speakers focusing on their personal experiences and other elevated and socially relevant themes. It is also used to highlight students' talents in Art, music, dance, dramatics, elocution, debates, quizzes, creative writing, sports etc.

Since 2018-19, GMC has also instituted various prizes as Gold medals for Toppers in all the faculties; Outstanding Student of the Year Award in Academics, Co-curricular Activity & Most Regular Student of the year Award along with 07 Awards for excellence in all the Seven Dharas.

Prayer Talks

Every morning before classes commence at the college, all students and teachers gather for the morning assembly. Prayers/veda chanting/thought for the day/daily quiz and a few minutes of silent sitting are sometimes followed by a talk by students, faculty members or invited guests on topics related to morals and values.

Since 2018-19, we have had expert sessions on Career Orientation by Dr. Pawan Dwivedi; Moral & Spiritual sessions with Swami Parmatmanandji (Arsh Vidya Mandir) & Father Jithin (Roman Catholic Church); 03 International Seminars, 01 state-level and 01 district-level seminar; 05 Faculty Development Programmes and 10 volumes of Gurukul Samachar Patrika have been published.
