“Literature Across a Century: The Golden Jubilee of Thought and Theory”

In a remarkable celebration of intellectual legacy and literary dialogue, The Literary Club marked its Golden Jubilee (50th) Session with a National Webinar titled "Revisiting English Literature and Literary Theory in the Past Hundred Years", held on 7th-8th May 2025. This commemorative event was organized in scholarly collaboration with the ELTAI Pune Chapter, Alumni Association of the Department of English and CLS, Saurashtra University, and the School of Humanities, MIT ADT University, Pune.

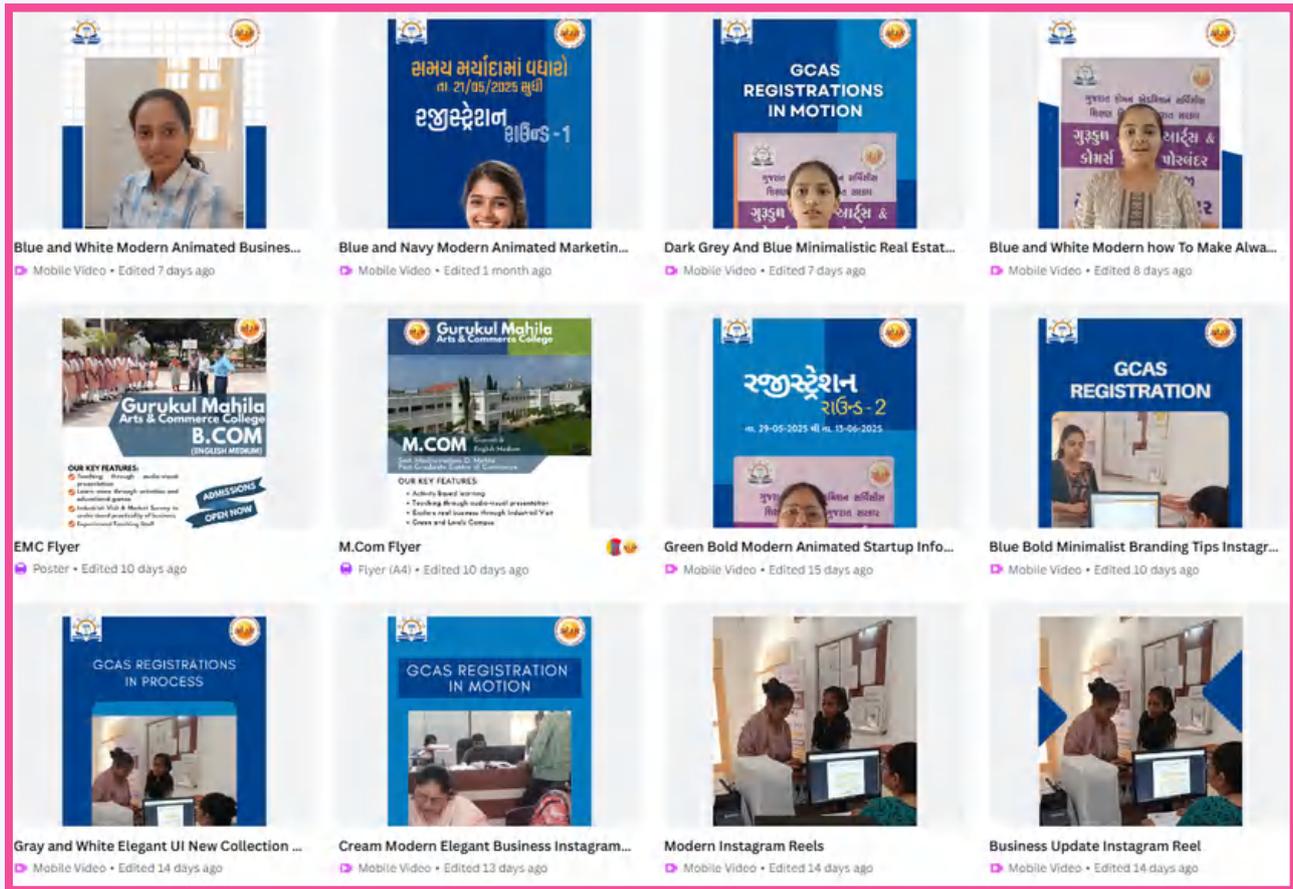

The two-day virtual gathering brought together literary minds from across the country to reflect, revisit, and reimagine the trajectories of English literature and theory over the past century—a journey from Eliot’s high modernism to today’s pluralistic post-theories.

Adding depth and insight to the discourse, Dr. Anupamratanshanker Nagar, Principal of Gurukul Mahila Arts & Commerce College, Porbandar, graced the occasion as a Guest Resource Person. His session, titled “Literary Theory in the Last Hundred Years: A Comparative Reflection,” offered a panoramic view of shifting paradigms—from structuralism’s rigour to postcolonial resistance, from feminist awakenings to digital-age disruptions. Dr. Nagar’s eloquent narrative connected the dots across decades with wit, wisdom, and wide-ranging comparative vision.

As voices from academia harmonized across institutions and generations, the Golden Jubilee celebration stood not only as a milestone but as a launchpad—inviting future explorations into the ever-evolving world of literature and its myriad meanings.
